Dean Block Fire Routs Many Occupants; Woman Dies Of Heart Attack

Fire, which broke out about 12:30 a. m. Sunday, threatened the five-story Dean Block at 323-333 South Croton avenue, and resulted in death of one of the occupants, Mrs. Minnie Rutter, aged 75 years, who died of a heart attack, a few minutes after she had been brought to safety from her room on the third floor.

Forty-five residents of the block were driven from the building scantily clad, and eight were taken to hospitals, only one, however, suffering from burns.

The actual fire loss was only around $3,000, due to fine work on the part of the firemen, who brought the blaze under control in short order.

Acts of Heroism

There were a number of acts of heroism performed by local people in helping to evacuate the residents of the building, most of whom were asleep when the fire broke out. For the most part, the apartments in the building were occupied by elderly women.

The Lawrence County Chapter, American Red Cross, had members of its disaster committee, headed by Ralph F. Davis on the job immediately, and they saw to it that the occupants were taken care of, following the fire. Some were taken to the homes of relatives, and those who had no near relatives were housed at the Y. W. C. A. and the County Home, which was made available by Miss Dorothy Stewart in behalf of the Y. W. C. A., and County Commissioner Joseph Gilmore of the county home.

Aid In Rescue

Among those who proved themselves heroes at the fire were Roger W. "Skip" Rowland, son of County Republican Chairman Roger W. Rowland, and Andrew Boughner, of 462 Croton avenue.

Young Rowland happened to be at the police station when word of the fire was flashed there. He went to the building and manned the elevator, bringing down a number of the occupants of the upper floors; while Boughner assisted with awakening the resident and helped them to safety.

There were others who resided in the building who also helped with the task. Some made their way to safety via the fire escapes, and some were brought down the new aerial ladder.

Local anglers are spending their leisure hours straightening out their fishing tackle and doing other odd jobs as they look forward to April 15 when they will be able to sit along local and district stream banks. Most of them are counting the days until the law will permit them to cast their rods in the streams.

Local residents are finding that it takes a day or so more for their letters from distant cities to reach them now with the dropping of many train schedules. The train curtailment has affected local mail service considerably it is also noticed.

Upon completion of the new viaduct over the Slippery Rock creek on new Route 422, at Rose Point, motorists will be afforded one of the best scenic views in miles around. The heights of the bridge will enable motorists to see much of the scenic country through which the creek runs.

Nurse Is Called As Witness In 'Mercy Killing'

By JAMES L. KILGALLEN
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

MANCHESTER, N. H., Feb. 27.—(INS)—The grim story of the last days and hours of Mrs. Abbie Borroto began to unfold today from the lips of a pretty nurse called as a state witness at the "mercy murder" trial of Dr. Hermann N. Sander.

Twenty-four-year-old Elizabeth Rose, who was Mrs. Borroto's private nurse at the last, is believed to have been the only witness to Dr. Sander's alleged fatal injection of air into the veins of the dying cancer patient.

Second Woman Witness

The state is said to pin much of its hope for conviction of the popular 41-year-old physician on her story. She is the second woman called by the prosecution.

Miss Josephine Connor, librarian at Hillsborough County hospital was the first woman to point the finger at Dr. Sander in her testimony of last week of conversations with him.

Miss Rose resumed the stand when court opened after a weekend recess and picked up where she left off last Friday.

Two Executed At Rockview

Beaver County Dual Slayer Pays Penalty

BELLEVILLE, Pa., Feb. 27.—(INS)—Two 32-year-old men, each convicted of killing two persons, paid with their lives early today in a double execution in Rockview penitentiary's electric chair.

First to be strapped in the chair was George Minoff, of Steelton, who fatally shot two fellow members of a church during a congregational meeting.

While four guards were adjusting the straps, Minoff turned to the witnesses and remarked: "I'm all right."

He tried to make a further comment, but the death mask and its electrode were put in their places before the doomed man could finish.

The second man to die was John William Givens, sentenced for the hammer slaying of two fellow workers at a Beaver county home for boys in 1947.

Harry Lauder Is Dead At 79

STRAVHVEN, Scotland, Feb. 27.—(INS)—Sir Harry Lauder, the doughty little bandy-legged troubadour with the garbled celtic and colorful kilt who joked and sang his way into the hearts of millions, is dead.

Sir Harry, who is best remembered for such songs as "It's Nice To Get Up in the Morning," "Roamin' in the Gloamin'," and "Stop Your Ticklin', Jock," had been ill for months and doctors and nurses were in constant attendance since last August.

His relatives were at his bedside when the end came at 8:20 p. m. in the study home near Stravhven where he retired as a Scottish gentleman in the rolling hills of Lanarkshire.

United Mine Workers Union Goes On Trial

Waive Jury Trial On Contempt Charge This Morning

(BULLETIN)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27.—(INS)—Assistant Attorney General H. Graham Morison said today that the United Mine Workers Union has waived its rights to ask for a jury trial on contempt charges.

Morison said that union attorneys agreed at a pre-trial conference to go ahead with the trial before Federal Judge Richmond B. Keech without a jury.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27.—(INS)—The United Mine Workers Union went on trial today for criminal and civil contempt of court in refusing to end the coal strike and promptly waived its right to have a jury hear the vital case.

Not Guilty Plea

The union pleaded not guilty to the contempt charge.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27.—(INS)—Government-prodded negotiations to settle the soft coal wage dispute were suspended indefinitely today subject to reconvening on one hour's notice.

David L. Cole, chairman of President Truman's fact-finding board, told a news conference that the recess definitely does not mean a break-up in bargaining for a new wage contract.

rich and powerful union, if convicted, faces heavy fines for refusing to obey the anti-strike order issued two weeks ago by Federal Judge Richmond B. Keech.

A verdict is expected by mid-week.

Meanwhile, the 350,000 UMW members persisted in their refusal to end the coal strike, and the effects of the strike were felt with increased intensity.

Refuses Dismissal

Hopkins again asked the court to dismiss the contempt charges against the union but Judge Keech for the second time refused.

Both the union and the government waived preliminary statements to the court in order to expedite the case.

The union was entitled to a jury trial on the criminal contempt count but dispensed with this procedure in order to speed the trial.

It is on the civil contempt, however, that the union risks the greatest penalty. If found guilty, the (Continued on Page Two)

Miners Fail To Return To Work

By TROY GORDON
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 27.—The United Mine Workers extended their "no contract, no work" strike into its fourth week today, despite the threat of huge fines.

Sub-freezing temperatures throughout most of the heavy coal consuming states heightened the fuel emergency, with many areas rationing scant supplies and industries regulating their operations on a day-to-day basis.

The 350,000 soft coal miners stayed home although their union faces charges of contempt of court today in Washington. The charges grew out of their defiance of a Taft-Hartley injunction ordering them to go back to the pits two weeks ago today.

But the diggers, interested only in a new labor contract with the operators, chose to ignore the legal proceedings and were awaiting news of progress—or lack of it—from negotiation sessions in the nation's capital.

More than 100,000 workers in coal-dependent industries have been furloughed by cutbacks instituted to stretch the precious stocks of coal remaining above ground.

United States Steel and other large corporations in the industry are to announce their production plans for this week today. Drastic curtailments are expected unless some indication is given that the soft coal crisis will end soon.

Wild Leopard Being Hunted

Crack Riflemen Join Oklahoma City Hunt

OKLAHOMA CITY, Feb. 27.—(INS)—A group of about 100 crack riflemen, including two Colorado game wardens with lion hunting dogs, started out at daybreak today in renewed search of a hungry wild leopard that escaped from Oklahoma City's zoo three days ago.

The dogs were sent scurrying around the Lincoln Park zoo in an effort to pick up a scent near the 22-foot deep pit from which the vicious jungle cat escaped last Saturday.

Among the crack riflemen hunting for the beast were 30 zoo guards and 21 Marines, all expert shots. They were augmented by city and state policemen.

The search for the beast was spurred at daybreak following a report that the leopard had been seen entering the zoo grounds, but a hasty search in the darkness with the aid of floodlights failed to produce a trace of the animal.

Butler Student Burns To Death

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 27.—(INS)—A University of Pennsylvania student was burned to death yesterday in a two-alarm fire in a campus fraternity house.

The victim was Robert Kendall Pollard, 22, of (442 Brown Ave.) Butler, Pa., a liberal arts student and president of the Liberal Arts college junior class.

Pollard's body was found on a third-floor hallway of the Delta Tau Delta fraternity house. The entire floor was destroyed by flames.

A futile attempt to save the victim was made by several fraternity members, including Robert Kersting 21, and his brother Eugene, 23, both of Clarksburg, W. Va., and students of the Wharton school.

Firemen had been fighting the blaze from that area only a short time before the walls fell, but were ordered to a safe place by Fire Chief H. F. Steinbrink, who with assistants Norman A. McFarland and William Bowen were on the job at the outset of the blaze.

The building housed the Farmers Pride poultry market, 31 East Washington street; National Peanut Corporation, 33 East Washington street; New Castle Drug and I. and J. LONDON, Feb. 27.—(INS)—Great Britain's shaky Labor party lost two chances today to increase its majority in the new house of commons.

Laborite candidates missed out in two of the last three Scottish constituencies to be heard from.

Maj. Duncan McCallum, Conservative beat out Laborite and Independent candidates.

Candidates in the Scottish county of Argyll, and J. Grimond, Liberal, won in the Orkney and Shetland islands constituency.

The latest results gave the Conservatives 295 seats in the new parliament, while the Laborite total stands at 315 and the Liberals now have eight.

McCallum polled 19,259 votes against 9,215 over L. Nicholson (Labor) and Mrs. Mary S. MacPhail Holt, (Ind.) who received only 490 votes on her home rule platform.

In the Orkney-Shetland constituency, Grimond polled 19,237 votes. Conservative Sir Basil H. Neven-Spence obtained 6,281 votes and Laborite H. Leslie 4,198.

Eight Business Places Destroyed By Fire Disaster

Fire of undetermined origin, which was discovered at 5:30 o'clock this morning, completely destroyed the old Clendenin Building, 31-35 East Washington street, and 9-13 North Mercer street, causing damage which it is believed will run $250,000 or more. The loss is partly covered by insurance.

The fire was discovered by Joseph Wardman, of 840 Lathrop street, who smelled smoke as he was passing the building. Investigating, he discovered the place was on fire, and turned in an alarm from Box 28. Additional alarms were sounded by firemen when they arrived at the scene, as they realized a serious blaze was in progress.

Fanned by a stiff breeze, the fire threatened to spread to the Leslie Hotel, immediately across the street, and the Henderson Building, on the southeast corner of East Washington and Mercer streets. Firemen were stationed on the roofs of these structures, as huge blazing embers were carried across the street by the breeze, and they were tramped out by the firemen.

Three Firemen Are Overcome

Three firemen were overcome by smoke while fighting the blaze and were taken to the Jameson Memorial hospital. Chris Davis and William Shuliff, attached to Central Fire Department, were placed in oxygen tents; and Ralph H. Montgomery of the Third Ward Department was put to bed.

The Peoples Bank of Lawrence County, immediately adjoining the Clendenin Building, was saved from fire damage. It is a more modern building with thick fire walls, and firemen, stationed on the roof, prevented the blaze from spreading there.

The Clendenin Building is an old landmark, having been erected around 1885, and was three stories in height facing Washington street, and two stories in the rear, facing North Mercer street. It is owned by the Clendenin Estate, of which Mrs. Helen Ward Stevens, of Montclair, N. J., is the principal heir.

Spread With Rapidity

When first discovered, the fire was only in the building fronting Washington street, but firemen were powerless to prevent its spread from the inside to the structure on North Mercer street, occupied by Butz Florists, H. H. Dick apartment, and Sam Davis' barber shop.

So fast did the fire spread that firemen were prevented from entering the building, and they were forced to fight it entirely from the outside.

They were endangered by the possible collapse of the walls, a section of the three-story building in the front finally falling into Mercer street about 8 o'clock. Later another section of it, at the corner also fell, but no one was injured. The bricks fell at the foot of the First National Bank Building across Mercer street, but did no damage other than splashing dirty water against the windows.

Firemen had been fighting the blaze from that area only a short time before the walls fell, but were ordered to a safe place by Fire Chief H. F. Steinbrink, who with assistants Norman A. McFarland and William Bowen were on the job at the outset of the blaze.

According to Mr. White, the city has an interest in the building because eventually the building was to be voted for public library purposes.

Council Will Take Action

To Quickly Condemn Standing Fire Ruins

When Council met in formal meeting Monday in Council chambers, City Hall, Safety Director Richard I. Davis made a report concerning the fire-gutted Clendenin building and recommended Council view, then determine whether or not to condemn the walls yet standing—which, if Council does, will cause the insurance company to order their demolition immediately.

Davis stated that the debris should be removed immediately. He stated gas company employees cannot shut off the gas until piles of debris are removed, hence he urged quick action.

Solicitor Robert White contacted the insurance company's representative here and the latter said that if the structure was officially condemned the company would be required to remove the walls and debris.

According to Mr. White, the city has an interest in the building because eventually the building was to be voted for public library purposes.

Council acceded to Mr. Davis, request for a vote to hold the same at noon and will make their decision to condemn or not condemn this afternoon.

What a cinch of a job a fireman has, when the days are summery long, he doesn't do much so you seem to think, except wait to answer a gong. And there's days and nights when he's probably bored with nothing whatever to do just sit and read or play cards with the boys and wait till his trick is through. But what of the nights when the weather is grim and fire is sweeping a path, and the firemen buck all the umps of flame and take on the weather man's wrath. It's then you find that a fireman's life is nothing for you or me, it's then that he earns all the money he gets, the weather is twenty three.

Cutbacks Are Being Made By Industry

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 27.—(INS)—The nation's largest steel producer began slashing production 43 per cent today because of dwindling coal supplies caused by the soft coal miners general strike.

U. S. Steel Corporation said cutbacks instituted today at its Pittsburgh district mills will be completed sometime tomorrow. Fourteen of 25 blast furnaces will be banked. Some rolling mills will cease operations. Mills had been operating at 96 per cent capacity.

In addition U. S. Steel announced a 50 per cent cut in operations at its nearby Clairton coke plant.

proprietor Maurice Schoenberger stating that his loss would be around $35,000, about three-fourths of which is covered by insurance.

At noon today firemen succeeded in knocking down the East Washington wall of the building, using the aerial ladder and truck as a battering ram.

The wall was sagging dangerously and had it fallen into the street could have caused heavy damage. As it was the firemen pushed it inside and the brick and rubble fell onto the charred rubble inside the building.

Firemen were still playing water on the fire ruins at noon today.

The heat from the fire cracked some of the windows on the Mercer street side of the First National Bank of Lawrence County.

Although none of their equipment was needed at the blaze, both the Union Township and Neshannock Township Volunteer departments sent their men to the scene, headed by Chiefs Jerry Ammon and James Messner and they spelled off the men from the New Castle department who suffered considerably from the intense cold.

Firemen had the fire sufficiently under control at noon that they were able to enter the ruins, and put on the finishing touches towards putting out the last of the smoldering embers.

Hot coffee was furnished the firemen by a number of restaurants adjacent to the scene of the fire, and they were also furnished with dry gloves by kindly merchants.

PRIME MINISTER ATTLEE IS FACING TOUGH PROBLEMS

In the election campaign which returned the Socialist government to power by a scant margin.

Blames Attlee

Bevan, who is known to be eager to succeed Attlee as head of the Labor party, was quoted as blaming Attlee, Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin and Deputy Prime Minister Herbert Morrison for the staggering setback suffered by the Laborites last Thursday.

The Labor party won at least a three-seat absolute majority in Commons and may add to that total today when counting in the last three Scottish constituencies—Argyll, Inverness and Orkney and Shetland Islands—begins at 9:00 a. m.

Bevan is represented as feeling that Attlee, by deliberately barring him from broadcasting during the campaign, cost the Laborites votes which might have given them a working majority of 30 votes.

In Seclusion

Attlee was in the seclusion of his country home where he tackled the task of reconstructing his cabinet with the full knowledge that Bevin is likely to rebel unless he is given a more prominent post such as the secretary of state for the colonies. The post was vacated by the defeat of Arthur Creech Jones in the election.

Morrison is reported disposed toward an agreement with the Laborites to give the government a political crutch on which to hobble along for six to nine months pending new elections.

The Laborites, who won eight of the 625 seats, are asking a halt to further nationalization as their price for such cooperation. The Laborites now hold 315 seats and the Conservatives 294.

To Hold Fire

The Conservatives are expected to hold their fire until King George delivers his speech opening parliament March 6.

Though a major reshuffle is expected in the new government, it is almost certain that Chancellor of the Exchequer Sir Stafford Cripps and Foreign Secretary Bevin will retain their posts.

Bevin spent the week-end in the hospital undergoing treatment for a heart ailment but is expected to return to his desk today.

Lord A. V. Alexander is expected to leave his post as minister of defense to succeed the aged Lord Addison as minister of the privy seal and leader of the House of Lords.

The defense post may be filled by either Food Minister John Strachey or Minister of National Insurance William Griffiths.

UMW can be fined a virtually unlimited amount.

Assistant Attorney General H. Graham Morrison called Harry Hull, clerk of the district court, as his first witness as the government started to present its case.

Demand New Contract

The 350,000 idle soft coal diggers are closely watching the court proceedings but they defiantly announced that only a new wage contract and not contempt penalties, will send them back to the pits.

Twelve hours of closed-door negotiations Sunday failed to produce visible progress toward an agreement. Federal mediators kept weary union and industry officials at the bargaining table until past midnight last night, but were unable to break the 10-month-old deadlock over a new coal contract.

One industry source said: "The operators are holding tight and I have seen no concessions from the union either."

Federal Mediator Director Cyrus S. Ching and David L. Cole, chairman of President Truman's coal fact finding board, summoned the parties back for further talks at 11 a. m. (EST) today.

Government officials feel the only hope for a negotiated settlement lies in the short-time remaining before the court rules on the contempt charge against the UMW. They made every effort to obtain a break before the union appeared in court.

TALYOR-HAMILTON BEAUTIFUL RITE

Soft candlelight glow and strains from the "Love's Theme" from Romeo and Juliet provided a lovely setting for the wedding of Miss Maxine DeWoody Taylor and William Graham Hamilton junior. Vows were exchanged Saturday, February 25 at 3:30 o'clock in the First Christian church, before an altar enbanked with large bouquets of white snapdragons and carnations, intermingled with palms and ferns. Dr. G. S. Bennett officiated at the single ring service.

Miss Taylor is the daughter of Mrs. Rachel P. Taylor of 122 East street, and the late Dr. Howard DeWoody Taylor. Mr. Hamilton is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Graham Hamilton, Sr., of Greenville, Connecticut.

Escorted to the altar by her brother, David P. Taylor, the petite brunette bride was a picture of charm in a gown of white nylon lace with a dainty all-over flower pattern. White satin under the fitted bodice was scalloped at the neckline. Long sleeves tapered to points at the wrists. Its loveliness was accentuated by a bouffant skirt which fell in graceful folds, terminating in a cathedral train. Her fingertip veil of illusion was caught up in a tiny dutch bonnet of nylon lace. A bouquet of phalaenopsis orchids and white freesia completed the attractive picture.

Miss Verna Mae Taylor, of Cleveland, attended her sister as maid of honor. She was attractively attired in an apricot colored gown of iridescent taffeta. Two folds of the taffeta at the off-shoulder neckline gave a berthia effect, which extended over the tiny puffed sleeves. At the neckline in back was a matching bow of velvet, with streamers to the floor. The gown's loveliness was further accentuated by gold mesh mitts. She carried a modern style bouquet of yellow roses, with yellow roses on one side of the braided velvet headress.

Bridesmaids were Miss Ann A. Pollock, cousin of the bride from Ann Arbor, Mich., and Miss Mildred Ann Ditty, sorority sister of the bride from Pittsburgh. They wore gowns of copper and green iridescent taffeta, fashioned like that of the maid of honor. Their modern style bouquets consisted of talisman roses.

Lt. Bruce Ebbels of Portsmouth, Virginia, served the groom as best man. Ushers were Howard Webb, Iowa City, Iowa; Arthur Langdon, Syracuse, N. Y.; Robert Elliott, Interloken, N. Y.; and William Shevman of New Castle.

Mrs. Jay L. Reed, organist, played several nuptial selections, with Miss Lena Mae McConnell as soloist.

Immediately following the ceremony, a reception was held at the Charles H. Johnson residence, 905 Highland avenue. Bowls of pink gladioli and pink roses decorated the rooms in which guests were received. The beautifully appointed bridal table was centered with an arrangement of white carnations and snapdragons, flanked by branched candelabra. Older guests were seated at a smaller table. Dainty ices, wedding cake and tea were served. Mrs. David W. Kay, Mrs. G. G. Stitzinger, Mrs. E. L. Stitzinger, and Mrs. Alon W. Shevman poured, with aides being Mrs. Paul A. Welsh, Mrs. Ezra Marvin, Miss Grace Johnson, and Mrs. William Comstock.

A buffet supper was given by Mrs. Taylor for the bridal party and out-of-town guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Stitzinger of Hazelroft avenue. The young couple later left for a wedding trip by train to Chicago, and will later make their home at 1120 Houston road, Boise, Idaho. Mrs. Hamilton is a graduate of the New Castle high school, Allegheny college, and Fletcher Graduate School of Law and Diplomacy of Boston. She interned at the National Institute of Public Affairs, Washington, D. C. She was a member of the Phi Beta Kappa and Alpha Chi Omega fraternities.

Mr. Hamilton is a graduate of Cornell and Princeton universities, and interned with the National Institute of Public Affairs. He was a member of Phi Beta Kappa and the Terrace club at Princeton. He is employed by the Department of Interior, Bureau of Reclamation, Boise, Idaho.

What Happened To Labor Party?

What happened to the British Labor party to make possible its colossal losses in the general election and raise the spectre of new balloting perhaps in less than a year?

This is the question being asked all over the world today. And it probably is being raised most loudly at Prime Minister Clement Attlee's election headquarters and in Socialist political clubs throughout the length and breadth of the British Isles.

Taste Has Changed

The conservatives, whose near-success cut so deeply into the once overwhelming Laborite majority in the House of Commons, can answer simply that Britain's taste for socialism has run its course and that the party now is paying the penalty for not putting on the brakes.

They can say that the Laborites had been forewarned and should have been forearmed.

Certainly, with the exception of Winston Churchill's proposal for a new approach on talks with Soviet Russia on atomic bombs and other world problems, the conservatives placed all their pre-election stress on the alleged demerits of over-nationalization.

They charged that wage-earners were being exploited and taxpayers almost swindled.

They said that a luxury-loving British people were being denied everything but the plainest and most tasteless of foods.

Road To Communism

And they warned that a regimented Britain was being led straight down the road to communism.

The very magnitude of the popular vote shows that the entire populace had been stirred to alarm. Perhaps millions in the white collar class who voted Labor five years ago decided to switch back before things went too far.

Millions of other Laborites probably voted when they might not ordinarily bother to do so because they feared the benefits of Socialism were being imperilled.

That almost occurred. In the long run, Friday's losses could mean disaster. British parliamentarians are astute. They have to be.

British elections have a faculty for being historic events. The balloting of 1930 was no exception to the rule.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

SPEECH DEFECTS EASILY CORRECTED

The average child on entering school may not reproduce nearly all the speech sounds correctly. His errors may be classified as substitutions, omissions or indistinct articulation. But if his speech is so poor that he is often misunderstood when he speaks, he may be very seriously handicapped.

Other children will treat him as younger than he is. Then he will feel more shy and ill-at-ease and his speech errors will grow worse.

Difficulties most frequently occur with s, sh, ch, th, j, l, r. The child may substitute t for k, g, w for r, r for l, t, s, or f for th (voiceless). He may be unable to use the blends, as fl, fr, sl, sn, sm, sk, st, bl, br.

Infantile Speech

Parents and grandparents sometimes suppose the infantile speech of the preschool child is "cute." Or they may understand the child's speech so well as to feel no concern about it. If on the other hand, they suddenly realize to make him speak correctly they may render him so self-conscious as to talk much less and to refuse to try when they attempt to help him correct his wrong sounds.

If you have a child under five or six, even older, who does not talk plainly, study his difficulties in terms of the foregoing data, over a period of several days without indicating to him that you have noticed his errors. Then check on yourself to make sure you enunciate distinctly when you talk or read to him. Read to him from a wide variety of the nursery rhymes. Pick out those which contain some of his troublesome sounds. Read or say these rhymes often for him. If, for instance, he has trouble with the sound "s," choose "Simple Simon," "I Saw a Ship A-sailing," "Ore Misty Moisty Morning." The sound of "r" frequently appears in "Rock-a-bye Baby," "George Porgie," "Ride Away, Ride Away," "Little Robin Redbreast." Indeed, if you will glance through a number of the old nursery rhymes you will find about all the troublesome sounds repeated often.

While it hardly will be wise to urge the child to recite these rhymes to you from memory, he may choose to do so or be saying them to himself silently.

Very Skillful

How much you can help the child by correcting him will depend on how well you can win his cooperation. Unless you are very skillful you may do more harm than good. If you often interrupt him as he speaks, make him self-conscious of his speech, or annoy him in any way in relation to his errors, his difficulties may grow worse.

If you are very gentle and persuasive you might get him interested in watching your lips as you make the difficult sounds, then in seeing your lips making these sounds in the mirror, then in observing his own lips as he makes these sounds. Our best schools now have speech specialists. But they do their best work as they induce teachers and parents to cultivate a comfortable relationship with the child. My bulletin, "The Young Child's Speech" may be had in a stamped envelope sent me at 235 East 45th street, New York, N. Y.

Infantile speech often indicates great dependence on the mother physically and emotionally. Anything you can do to help this child to grow more self-reliant in caring for himself, amusing himself and being happy with other children of his own age should help in his speech improvement. When he feels himself one of a group of playmates of his own age he tends to imitate their speech.

LITERARY WEATHER FORECASTS

There are few bits of intelligence received in the course of a day expressed in such prosaic and unimaginative language as the weather forecast.

The decision of the head of the New York City Weather Bureau, obviously a man of some literary attainments, to do something about this by injecting, when circumstances seem to warrant, a descriptive adjective is, we believe, both important and wise.

All too often a forecast of unpleasant weather leaves the reader with a feeling that the forecaster is a heartless, insensitive wretch who is just as happy to predict rain, sleet or snow as clear, fine weather. The resentment thus built up could be dispelled overnight by the injection of such a word as "dismal" or "gloomy" which tells us that the weather man won't enjoy the day any more than we.

The search for literary forecasts could, of course, be overdone. For example, we would like something a little less rhapsodic than "Oh, What a Beautiful Day." But we would like, too, to be reassured occasionally that the weather man agreed with us that a beautiful day is characterized by a shining sun and comfortable temperatures and is not simply one on which his forecast proved 100 percent accurate.

THEY MAKE US WEARY

It is practically impossible to repress a feeling of admiration for that famed scientist, Dr. Robert A. Millikan, who, after three long and weary hours of "preliminaries" at a dinner in California, abandoned his speech.

He called it off with the observation, "At this hour I fear the mind is too weary to listen to the speech I have prepared."

The practice of stalling off the guest speaker far, far into the night is of too frequent occurrence. It's not essential to take up cudgels in behalf of "after dinner" orators. Among them have been individuals deserving of a different use of those weapons.

But it is heartening to observe in Dr. Millikan's reaction in the California instance demonstration of a still sturdy American spirit that can be pushed just so far, observes the Philadelphia Inquirer. This affair may or may not serve as a warning for too prolix toastmasters and others who get on a dinner program and wear it to shreds. Other victims may adopt Dr. Millikan's system of getting up and bucking.

This could have more than post-prandial values, too. The idea might go far in dealing with wild-spending politicians, for instance, who not only are talking but taxing us to extinction.

A POET'S COMPLAINT

In a letter to the editor of a South Dakota newspaper, Badger Clark, noted western poet, says that as he reads smoothly and pleasantly through his daily newspaper, his poetic eye occasionally snags on a word that gives him pain.

"Why, of late, will journalists persist in using the word disinterested when they mean uninterested?" he wants to know. "To be disinterested is to be impartial and unprejudiced, not indifferent. A judge on the bench, if he's a good judge, must be disinterested, but he's certainly not uninterested in the case before him."

And every now and then, South Dakota's poet laureate says, he notices that a prisoner is "hailed" into court. This would be quite impossible, he points out, unless the judge should rise and call for three cheers for the prisoner, which seldom happens.

His next complaint about a peculiar usage of terms is one that will be acquiesced in by all old timers. "And how is it," he wants to know, "that bullets are now used when the writer means cartridges? Back in the days when I was interested in firearms only a woman or a rank novice called them bullets. 'The cowboy swaggered into the saloon with a well-filled bullet belt sagging across his hips.' Shades of Wild Bill!"

There's nothing permanent but change, the Dakota bard concludes philosophically. That's right, Badger, poems are not the same as they once were, either.

ENFORCING PROGRESS

An Indiana town, which shall be nameless for purposes of this dissertation because of the possibility there is a press agent lurking in a woodpile, has passed an ordinance which gives the populace several months to install garbage disposal gadgets in their kitchens, or else.

After a certain date several months hence there is to be no garbage collection in the town, and storing of garbage in any kind of container, underground or above, outside of buildings will be a violation of law.

This seems to be in line with current trends to regulate people's lives, all right. When new and better inventions are invented, people residing in Noname will adopt them or have them crammed down their throats.

Of course, if any resident of Noname should feel unable to keep up with inventive genius—to wit, plunk down the purchase price of a unit that will make cocoanut out of garbage and feed it to the drain—there probably is an out. The garbage can be hidden in a clothes closet until after dark when, deposited into a suitcase or otherwise thoroughly disguised to allay suspicions of the neighbors, it may be transported in the family car to some remote spot in the country.

From Me To You

If you were in town over the week-end . . . and early this morning . . . If you were here and on the streets you will agree that the money that we have spent for fire equipment . . . is not enough. The hook and ladder (aerial truck they call it now) was well worth the price we think . . . This one piece of equipment in the hands of our firemen saved at least ten lives early Sunday morning . . . a very neat piece of work was accomplished by our firemen and volunteers at that fire . . . The entire building could have, and everyone thought it would, go up in flames . . . But the fire was controlled very quickly and confined to a relatively small area . . . This was accomplished because the men of the fire department had better equipment than we have had for years . . . were in a position to get at the source quickly.

Heroes . . . yes, there were many heroes at the Sunday morning fire . . . one especially that we would like to commend . . . Roger "Skip" Rowland . . . son of Captain Roger W. Rowland, went into the Dean block and operated the elevator during the fire . . . bringing from the apartment floors, housing many aged women, the occupants to safety . . . "Skip," old lad, you are a credit to our community. Others of the town who stopped to witness the fire turned in and helped the ladies residing there to find shelter . . . many being taken to the hospital for observation and shelter . . . Yes, there are many good people in this world . . . Thank you Lord.

Early this morning . . . about five thirty Joe Wardman was driving up East Washington street . . . smelled smoke . . . in investigation at the corner of Mercer and Washington and then turned in the turnam . . . The fire broke out at the eaves over the New Castle Drug store by the time equipment and men arrived the flames were licking out in all directions . . . now you can see the ruins which really are ruins . . . Cold weather didn't stop our fire fighters . . . local department being assisted by many volunteers who not only brought men from the townships but their rolling stock . . . Another job of saving nearby buildings was accomplished . . . We think our firemen are the greatest in the country.

Example Of Remarkable Ineptitude

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27.—In the handling of the fair employment practices issue the Democratic leadership has provided an example of remarkable ineptitude. They represent a filibuster in the Senate which has little relation either to reasonable compromise or a strict enforcement measure.

From the beginning it has been perfectly obvious that an FEPC bill with compulsory and penalty provisions could not be passed. It is nothing like its original form. It is hard to determine who is responsible for the present mess. But a great deal of the blame must rest on the diehard proponents of an all-or-nothing bill.

Can we issue again the fair employment issue in the elections this fall? However, as one session of Congress after another fails to produce any legislation, the result may be disillusion and disgust rather than votes. The only real beneficiary is Representative Vito Marcantonio of the fellow-traveling labor party whose aim is to discredit both major parties.

The McConnell substitute put administration Democrats on a bad spot. If they voted against it, they were in the position of opposing the only bill that had a chance of passage. But since it was a Republican-sponsored measure, they could not take very much credit to themselves for going along with it.

One thing clearly demonstrated in the house is that FEPC has become a rather sordid football to be kicked back and forth between the two parties. The ineptitude of the Democrats made it possible for the Republicans to grab the ball and run for a touchdown.

I believe that if the Hays Bill had been passed and sent to the Senate, it would have had a good chance for passage there. The whole matter would have been taken out of the area of angry attack and counterattack. In a trial interval it could have been determined whether a law without sanctions would serve the cause of equal job opportunity.

Then, too, honest advocates of equality, of opportunity in the North had come to doubt the wisdom of a federal law providing punishment for violators. They realized that such a law could be used in the South to inflame latent feeling against minorities.

Both the Democratic leadership and the proponents of an all-out FEPC law seemed to abandon any hope of keeping a substitute measure in bounds. This was on the theory that whatever bill was sent to the Senate would be certain to be amended before final passage.

The substitute originally introduced by Representative Samuel K. McClellan Jr., Republican of Pennsylvania, became in consequence something of a monstrosity. Amendments were slapped on in the confusion of the late-night session providing that women should not be discriminated against and that the disabled

BIBLE THOUGHT

That which was from the beginning which we have heard, which we have seen with our eyes, which we have looked upon, and our hands have handled, of the Word of Life; (For the life was manifested, and we have seen it, and bear witness, and show unto you that eternal life, which was with the Father, and was manifested unto us.) Looking At Life

By ERICH BRANDEIS

One doesn't ordinarily go to a prizefight for the purpose of studying philosophy.

One goes to see a couple of fellows slug each other, and the more brutal the affair is the better one likes it.

A lot of folk think that prize-fights should be outlawed. I think they are good for people.

There is a certain amount of brutality in every one of us—even the mildest one.

No matter on how high a spiritual plane we live or pretend to live—the human being is, partly at least, animal and a prizefight is a good outlet for the animal spirit.

As long as we can witness a couple of other guys hurting each other, we are less apt to hurt others.

I don't know one man—and never hope to meet one—who hasn't occasionally felt like punching somebody in the nose. It's only "Civilization" (or fear of the other fellow's fist) that prevents him.

And, as far as women are concerned, well, there are plenty of them at the prizefights.

The other night I went to Madison Square Garden in New York to witness the Gavilan-Graham bout.

Governor Dewey was among the 12,000 witnesses and so was his son Tom, Jr. There were many distinguished people present, some with their wives, others with their sweethearts, and quite a few women had come unattached.

THE TURKS OUGHT TO KNOW

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27.

WHEN one reflects upon what Russia has done to the United States since the war ended, what she threatens to do to us and the world and on all she has cost us, it is not surprising the average American should be resentful and indignant not only toward the Soviet leaders but toward all those men in this country who have extolled and admired them, helped, either openly or covertly, play their ruthless and unprincipled game.

—O—

WHEN the shooting stopped five years ago we were trustful and naive, firmly believing that, supported by the dependable British, whose goal is the same as our own, and with the cordial co-operation of our great new ally and friend, Russia, through the United Nations we could realize the dream of all men of good will and really insure permanent international peace, outlawing the atomic bomb and relieving civilization of the menace that threatened its very existence. That was what we thought. It took the Soviet leaders just a few months to dissipate that dream. Inside of a year they had made it clear that their purpose was not to make the United Nations function but to reduce it to futility. In that, it can hardly be denied, they have succeeded.

—O—

IT TOOK us a little longer than a year to realize that this great new ally and friend was not an ally or friend at all, but was, in fact, our one potential enemy in the world, the one great power which blocked international agreement on atomic energy, the one nation cherishing aspirations for world domination, the only one with plans of aggression and conquest. Finally, we were compelled by indisputable evidence to believe that the main purpose of this ally and friend was to destroy the capitalistic system, upon which our economy is based, and substitute communism, which is abhorrent not only to the free enterprise system but to the individual freedom which is our dearest possession. Once we fully appreciate these facts we are forced to act to block these schemes. But the cost to us has been terrific.

—O—

THE appalling number of billions which, under the Marshall plan and in other ways, we have poured into Europe is an enormous burden to the American taxpayer and a severe strain on the national economy. Already laden with an undreamed of debt and with a deficit this year of more than $5,000,000,000, the heavy European drain is bound to enfeeble us financially, which is recognized as a Soviet objective. Yet, we have no choice. To withdraw or curtail our aid would remove all real resistance to Communist aggression and ultimately draw us into a war which civilization itself might not survive. No reasoning person wants to risk that. Our people as a whole are ready to make the sacrifice involved in saving Europe, recognizing that our own salvation is involved.

—O—

NEVERTHELESS we have every right to expect those on the receiving line not to waste our money, to spend it with discretion, to get results. Some waste, of course, is inevitable, but the charge of Mr. Churchill that in Britain there is great waste and similar reports from other places are disturbing. Rigid economy at home is essential and there is no excuse for failure to enforce it. But waste abroad can nullify all domestic economies and is indefensible and enfeebling. We can no more afford not to have the first than we can afford to have the second. All of which makes it encouraging to hear from men in position to know that in Turkey American dollars (Turkey has had about $200,000,000 to date) are being effectively and economically spent with exceedingly gratifying results both from the fiscal and the military standpoint.

—O—

AMONG the things which Turkey has done with our money, besides economically buttressing her democratic government, is to build up a fine modern defense army, highly trained and superbly equipped. If and when war comes, observers say, Turkey can be depended upon to give a good account of herself. The Turks have no notion that singlehandedly they could long resist the full power of the Soviet Republic, but, barring a hydrogen bomb, they are firmly convinced they can resist long enough and effectively enough to give sufficient time for other nations, particularly ourselves, to come to Turkey's aid. In brief, she feels that the expected attack on her will be the start of the third world war. She is quite confident she will not be fighting alone.

—O—

THE feeling of the Turks on this subject is worth consideration when it is recalled that they have been at war against the Russians twelve times since the days of Peter the Great. Standing between the Black and the Mediterranean seas, an independent Turkey blocks the path of Russia to warm water. The antagonism is deep and incurable. According to those in best position to know, there are two things concerning which the Turkish mind is crystal clear. One is that war again with Russia is inevitable. Soon or late they are certain they will once more be the Soviet target. The other is that at no time, in no place and under no conditions have (or do) the Russians ever told the truth. They do not quite understand why, with our own experience of the last five years, we still continue to place even the slightest credence in anything they say. It must be admitted they make out a pretty convincing case to sustain their view.

Washington Calling

(By Marquis Childs)

Example Of Remarkable Ineptitude

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27.—In the handling of the fair employment practices issue the Democratic leadership has provided an example of remarkable ineptitude. They represent a filibuster in the Senate which has little relation either to reasonable compromise or a strict enforcement measure.

From the beginning it has been perfectly obvious that an FEPC bill with compulsory and penalty provisions could not be passed. It is nothing like its original form. It is hard to determine who is responsible for the present mess. But a great deal of the blame must rest on the diehard proponents of an all-or-nothing bill.

Can we issue again the fair employment issue in the elections this fall? However, as one session of Congress after another fails to produce any legislation, the result may be disillusion and disgust rather than votes. The only real beneficiary is Representative Vito Marcantonio of the fellow-traveling labor party whose aim is to discredit both major parties.

The McConnell substitute put administration Democrats on a bad spot. If they voted against it, they were in the position of opposing the only bill that had a chance of passage. But since it was a Republican-sponsored measure, they could not take very much credit to themselves for going along with it.

One thing clearly demonstrated in the house is that FEPC has become a rather sordid football to be kicked back and forth between the two parties. The ineptitude of the Democrats made it possible for the Republicans to grab the ball and run for a touchdown.

I believe that if the Hays Bill had been passed and sent to the Senate, it would have had a good chance for passage there. The whole matter would have been taken out of the area of angry attack and counterattack. In a trial interval it could have been determined whether a law without sanctions would serve the cause of equal job opportunity.

Then, too, honest advocates of equality, of opportunity in the North had come to doubt the wisdom of a federal law providing punishment for violators. They realized that such a law could be used in the South to inflame latent feeling against minorities.

Both the Democratic leadership and the proponents of an all-out FEPC law seemed to abandon any hope of keeping a substitute measure in bounds. This was on the theory that whatever bill was sent to the Senate would be certain to be amended before final passage.

The substitute originally introduced by Representative Samuel K. McClellan Jr., Republican of Pennsylvania, became in consequence something of a monstrosity. Amendments were slapped on in the confusion of the late-night session providing that women should not be discriminated against and that the disabled

That which was from the beginning which we have heard, which we have seen with our eyes, which we have looked upon, and our hands have handled, of the Word of Life; (For the life was manifested, and we have seen it, and bear witness, and show unto you that eternal life, which was with the Father, and was manifested unto us.) That which we have seen and heard declared we unto you, that ye also may have fellowship with us; and truly our fellowship with you, and with the Father, and with his son Jesus Christ. Looking At Life

By ERICH BRANDEIS

One doesn't ordinarily go to a prizefight for the purpose of studying philosophy.

One goes to see a couple of fellows slug each other, and the more brutal the affair is the better one likes it.

A lot of folk think that prize-fights should be outlawed. I think they are good for people.

There is a certain amount of brutality in every one of us—even the mildest one.

No matter on how high a spiritual plane we live or pretend to live—the human being is, partly at least, animal and a prizefight is a good outlet for the animal spirit.

As long as we can witness a couple of other guys hurting each other, we are less apt to hurt others.

I don't know one man—and never hope to meet one—who hasn't occasionally felt like punching somebody in the nose. It's only "Civilization" (or fear of the other fellow's fist) that prevents him.

And, as far as women are concerned, well, there are plenty of them at the prizefights.

The other night I went to Madison Square Garden in New York to witness the Gavilan-Graham bout.

Governor Dewey was among the 12,000 witnesses and so was his son Tom, Jr. There were many distinguished people present, some with their wives, others with their sweethearts, and quite a few women had come unattached.

Rail Crossings To Be Repaired

Schweinsberg, State Officials Make Survey

Streets Director E. Gene Schweinsberg and State Highway department officials inspected railroad crossings in the city and Mr. Schweinsberg issued a request to the various railroad officials that crossings which require repair be put in a satisfactory condition as soon as possible.

Mr. Schweinsberg said some crossings are in poor condition.

Responsible for Documents
Following a conference between Mayor John F. Haven and Finance Director Albert A. Hoyland, it was decided that the person in charge of a city office is responsible for documents held in that office.

Therefore, when one person desires a document from an office other than his own, he will in the future be required to request permission from the latter to see or inspect the documents.

According to the officials, after some documents have been inspected they have been returned to a wrong file, which has caused considerable inconvenience.

Speeding Being Eliminated

A large number of auto speeders have been arrested in New Castle during the current month, which has acted as a deterrent to fast driving. Almost 100 drivers have either paid fines at police headquarters or have paid the penalty in fines.

Examinations Coming
Persons engaged in the handling of foodstuffs and beverages will be required to undergo a physical examination in April. Health Superintendent Dr. W. A. Womer announced today. Hundreds are expected to appear for the examination twice yearly.

All of the field corn projects will be conducted as an experiment in connection with the Pennsylvania State college, in that the college will make lime and fertilizer recommendation, planting distances cultivation suggestions for one acre and another acre will be treated as is the practice on the home farm.

Two boys conducted these experiments last year in the area and found the practices recommended by the college worthwhile. This year six boys have soil samples for analysis and planting and fertilizer recommendations.

Try And Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

Wily old George Bernard Shaw continues to say and do things that assure him publicity in newspapers the world over. A jealous rival, in fact, attributes his robust health at 93 to "constant basking in the energy giving violet rays of the spotlight."

Shaw's latest explanation of his technique is "I take the utmost trouble to find the right thing to say, and then say it with the utmost levity." Years ago he rashly stated that if a man wrote a play at ninety it would be "all piffle." When he himself turned out Buoyant Billions at 92, however, he moderated that statement considerably. "It's the best I can do in my dotage," he said blandly. "and I darsay it's as good as most current plays by youngsters of 60 and 70." Only 1,000 copies of Buoyant Billions were authorized, and they were snapped up by collectors at $25 a throw.

On his 93rd birthday Shaw grumbled, "I get packages of food from America and Australia and God knows where else that I've never eaten in my life and never will!"

Alcoholics Anonymous Group Has Dinner Event

Over three hundred men and women met at dinner in the Cathedral Saturday night, February 25, drawn together by a common weakness that has become their collective strength.

It was the eighth anniversary dinner of the New Castle Chapter of Alcoholics Anonymous, a group of men and women who gather strength each from the other and through mutual understanding and selfless service have thrown off the shackles of alcohol.

Largest Yet

This dinner, the second annual of the local chapter, was by all odds the largest the chapter has held. Guests were present from Pittsburgh, Youngstown, Warren, Sharon, Franklin, Titusville and other cities in the district. The principal speakers included a public official from another state and a housewife from another Pennsylvania city. The toastmaster was an insurance executive from another county of the state.

Alcoholics Anonymous ask only one thing in any printed reference to their meetings and that one thing is anonymity. This is prompted not by any sense of false modesty, apparently, but from a genuine desire to work quietly without fanfare or public notice. That desire for anonymity is respected in this article.

Personal Experience

The addresses of the principal speakers were not discourses upon national or international events, no humorous affairs but a recital of personal experiences in their battle with alcohol.

The public official's address was a gripping account of his own battle with John Barleycorn. Here was no impersonal talk upon the evils of alcohol by a dilettante but what amounted to a blow by blow account.

In the case of the woman speaker here was a word picture of a domestic tragedy that brought a lump in the throat. Jail sentences, social ostracism, a heart broken family, all of these she experienced and then the helping hand of those who had a sympathetic understanding of her problem. Today she is a leader in the A.A., her home is a happy one and the alcoholic fog which enshrouded her for years has lifted.

Some Humor Too

A.A. dinners are not all personal experiences, not all grimness and emotional outlets in admitting weakness. There was humor at this dinner and this was provided by the toastmaster. A fun of stories and a natural wit gave his audience the comedy relief necessary to any dramatic production. Several brief talks were made by local men who were guests. All of them lauded the work of the association and of the local chapter.

Alcoholics Anonymous is an amazing organization. It uses no high pressure organizers, no sloganeering publicity men, has no dues and engages in no public controversies. The members acknowledge with humility and gratitude their dependence upon God, but there is no creed, no dogma, no insistence upon any set form of religious worship.

They offer no panacea for the cure of alcoholism, they only know that by interdependence one upon the other, by a mutual sympathy with each other's problems they have gained a victory. They live from day to day, they resolve only to abstain from liquor for the day ahead but this they do every day.

The work of the individuals making up the chapters will probably never be given publicity. But they know, and every member knows what they are doing, and from their selfless service draw a satisfaction that publicity or public acclaim could never replace.

THE STORE THAT THRIFT BUILT

65 Employees Share Profits

Sears, Roebuck & Co. Employees Here Benefit

Sixty-five employees of the local Sears, Roebuck and Co. store today received some news they have been eagerly awaiting.

This "good news" was contained in individual statements which were handed to them by N. A. Fleck, manager of the store, at an employees meeting. These statements show the extent to which each of these 65 men and women staff members are sharing the company's 1949 profits through their membership in "The Savings and Profit Sharing Pension Fund of Sears, Roebuck and Co. Employees."

Worth $103,477. According to Manager N. A. Fleck, this local employee group has to its credit in the fund 1840 shares of Sears stock plus a cash balance of $22,287.00. Based on a year-end market value of $44 1/2 per share for the Sears stock, this group now has a total investment worth $103,477.00.

Mr. Fleck said that this fund was first established by Sears management in 1916, long before government social security, and before profit sharing plans were prevalent in American industry. The Sears fund now owns over 20 per cent of Sears stock and this ownership makes it the company's largest single stockholder.

The fund's total current assets now amount to $267,328.000 (based on a $44 1/2 per share year-end market value for Sears stock.) However, in order to amass this value the fund's 102,438 members have deposited only $46,700,000 out of their wages and salaries into the fund.

Share In Company's Profits Mr. Fleck explained that all regular Sears employees are eligible to join the fund after one year of service, and that the purpose of the fund is not only to permit employees to share in the company's profits, but also to assist them in creating a financial reserve which will help take care of their financial needs after their eventual retirement from business.

Employee members of the fund deposit five per cent of their salaries into their individual accounts each year, with the maximum deposit limited to $250,000 annually. Sears each year places in the fund an established percentage of its profits. This sum is credited to the employee-members on a length-of-service basis.

BRIEF LOOK FROM MIAMI BEACH

THESE THREE "Miss Brevity" titlists at Miami Beach, Fla., are enough to make most anyone's teeth stop chattering. Lois Ingerham (middle), Columbus, O., is revealed as winner, with Reina Seaman (left) of New York second, and show honors going to Phyllis Duke of Miami Beach. It must've been tough for the judges. Former Resident Author Of Novel

Local friends will be interested in knowing that Mrs. Amy Fox, wife of George C. Fox, of Pittsburgh, former local resident, is the author of a novel, dealing with the oil country, which will come off the press on May 4, under the title of "Kim Dawson."

Mrs. Fox, a student in the evening fiction class, at the University of Pittsburgh, got the idea about 12 years ago, while living on the Venango Road, along French Creek, just outside Meadville. She became intrigued with the stories told by an old oil man, particularly about Pitloch, and its history.

She visited many people in the oil fields and talked with them about oil history. At that time, she had no idea of writing a book, but was pressed by fellow students to do so, and the result is the forthcoming novel.

Government Will Quit Being Landlord For Host Of G-Girls

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27.—(INS)—The government has announced that it has decided to quit being a landlord for its thousands of unmarried girl employees.

The Housing and Home Finance Agency said that it plans to close Arlington farms and Midway hall—World War II and postwar address for a large number of the G-Girls—on July 31.

The projects, built to house 8,383 girl workers, are at present sheltering only 1,910. The projects, are being operated at a loss, the government said, and added that the young ladies can now find plenty of space in private Washington hostels.

Drive Slow—Children Move Fast!

THE FAMILY SCRAPBOOK

By DR. ERNEST G. OSBORNE

EASING INTO NEW FOODS

Most infants are pretty conservative when it comes to trying out new foods. Given egg for the first time, for instance, they are likely to wrinkle up their noses, turn their heads away, push out some of it with their tongues and otherwise show their dislike. The reaction will be much the same to other foods, especially if there are distinctive new tastes or if the "feel" of the new item on the menu is different from that to which they have been accustomed.

Several hints on introducing new foods have come out of the practical experience of many mothers. First of all, a struggle should be avoided. One can start with a very small portion so that almost before he knows it, Junior has had his taste and is back to the old reliable milk, cereal or whatever it is to which he has become accustomed. Giving a small portion of the new food between more liberal portions of the "old" food is another effective variation.

Mothers have used cream sauce with success, too. Carrots, tuna fish and a number of other such foods are more likely to be acceptable if covered with a cream sauce than if taken straight.

DO YOU HATE GOING THROUGH 'CHANGE OF LIFE'?

So many women between the ages of 38 and 52 have good reason to hate "change of life"—the time when fertility ebbs away—when embarrassing symptoms of this nature may betray your age!

If this functional period makes you suffer from hot flashes or makes you feel so weak, nervous, restless, hard to live and work with—try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to relieve such symptoms. Women by the thousands have reported remarkable benefits. No other medicine of this type for women has such a long record of success.

Regular use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Compound helps build up resistance against such middle-age distress. The woman's friend!

Hoover Was Pestered By Mosquitoes While At White House

VIRGINIA BEACH, Va., Feb. 27.—(INS)—A government official disclosed today that the Democrats and the depression weren't the only sources of irritation for Herbert Hoover when he was in the White House.

Dr. F. C. Bishopp of the agriculture department told a convention meeting that the Republican chief executive suffered serious discomfort from a horde of mosquitoes that kept the first family from using the White House lawn.

Bishopp and other government "bug" experts found, and eliminated the stingers in their breeding places—puddles of water that had collected in recesses in the facade of the Treasury building just across the street from the executive mansion.

Planes Fire On U.S. Freighter

(BULLETIN)
NEW YORK, Feb. 27.—(INS)—The United States Line announced today its freighter Pioneer Dale was strafed by "unidentified planes" as it approached the Chinese communist harbor of Tsingtao.

A spokesman for the line in New York said one of the crewmen was "slightly injured". The spokesman for the line was asked if he knew the identity of the attacking planes. He replied: "I think you can guess."

In recent months two American freighters, the Flying Arrow and the Sir John Franklin, were attacked by planes of the Chinese nationalist government as they attempted to reach communist-held Shanghai.

The nationalist government has declared a blockade of the communist-held mainland. The spokesman for the U. S. Line said the Pioneer Dale, carrying 50 men, was proceeding from Hong Kong to Tsingtao when it was attacked.

He said the identity of the wounded crewman was not known to him and added that the ship sustained only "very slight" damage.

The Pioneer Dale is under the command of Captain James Milton of New York.

Tsingtao is on the Yellow sea some 500 miles north of Shanghai.

The fifteen-year-old girl was enroute to school with her sister, Nancy, 16, at the time. They were struck by an auto which careened down the slippery Lutton street.

BABY SUFFOCATED

JOHNSTOWN, Pa., Feb. 27.—(INS)—Sub-freezing temperatures indirectly were blamed today for the death of a nearby Colver infant.

She was Jane Carol Kitchen, two months old, who apparently slipped under the bed covers at her home yesterday and was suffocated. Mrs. Kitchen had moved her baby from a crib to her bed to keep the child warmer.

TRAITS TO GIVE UP IMMEDIATELY

"What traits do you think are the most serious causes of unpopularity?"

Answer: Those that dominate the following classes:
Pessimists, who voice the gloomy, defeatist view when problems seriously affecting us personally or nationally are being discussed.

Pollyannas, who continually preach the gospel that everything and everybody is lovely or perfect; that you should be counting your blessings instead of worrying over a notice that you are to be sold out by the sheriff or that you must succumb to a serious major operation.

Show-offs who love the sound of their own voices and continually shoulder their way into the spotlight.

Married people who quarrel before others.

The self-righteous who harp on the fact that they have always kept themselves under control, have never done anything they are ashamed of, have never let a bill run past the middle of the month.

Oracles, who steer every conversation into advice on how to conduct your business, invest your money, rear your children, regulate your diet, guide your life.

Buck-passers who can always contrive to put responsibility and blame on others.

Borrowers, who never seem to have what they need from lipstick to change in their purse.

And last but not least, those who send unwelcome people to you with letters of introductions; who without forewarning bring uninvited friends to your parties; who pay you surprise visits.

Present your problems to Miss Markel who will promptly send personal replies to questions from readers inclosing stamped, addressed envelopes.

Health Talks

BANG!

Bang's disease is one that is sometimes found in cows or milk handlers. It is sometimes called undulant fever because it undulates. That is, it gets a little better and then worse.

There are some other diseases which seem to like it around dairies.

Frequent testing of cattle helps to keep these diseases under control.

Cleanliness of stables and milkers helps, too. Pasteurization is another good helper.

Good clean milk is probably our best food.

FIREMEN HAVE SUPPER

Neshannock township volunteer firemen were hosts at an oyster and vegetable soup supper in the fire house on Highland avenue extension, which was participated in by several hundred, Friday evening.

The supper was prepared by the men and served by members of the ladies' auxiliary, and a nice sum was realized which will be devoted to the needs of the department.

Severe Cut In Ingot Rate Is Predicted Soon

CLEVELAND, Feb. 27.—(INS)—Magazine Steel today forecast severe curtailment in the national ingot rate by Wednesday unless coal mining is resumed in large volume before then.

The national ingot rate dropped an estimated 4.5 points to 85.5 per cent of capacity last week, the national metalworking periodical noted. It has dropped 8.5 points since the beginning of February, and a 20-30 point dive is expected within the next few days.

Blast furnace operations, already severely curtailed, will be cut further this week, Steel said. The Youngstown district, hardest hit so far, has dropped 15 points to 75 per cent of capacity.

"Shortages of semifinished steel are being felt," Steel reported. "Rolling mill schedules are being disrupted, resulting in a slowing down in shipments which will intensify as more mills are idled over the next week or so."

"Producers are falling behind on shipment promises. Especially acute supply conditions threaten in the light, flat-rolled products which have been relatively scarce for months."

How Important
Is This Man's
"YES"?

J. J. ALEXANDER

He's the man whose "yes" helped to put an ambitious boy through medical school.

Another occasion, his friendly "yes" started a man in business and today that man's business is a growing, paying proposition.

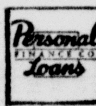

And then there was the time his "yes" enabled a worried family to get from under a stack of unpaid bills and his friendly advice put that family's budget on a sound, secure basis.

This man whose "yes" has brought peace of mind to thousands of people by helping them get a fresh start is the manager of the Personal Finance Co. office in this city.

His job is to make personal loans, and to keep the transactions on a business-like basis. His years of experience with Personal have taught him to respect the honesty of local people—friends, relatives, or employer are not brought into the picture.

Don't borrow unnecessarily. But if a loan—for a month or a year, or longer—is the sensible thing for you (and you're the judge) the YES MAN will appreciate the chance to say "yes."

You can telephone him . . . or drop in to see him at the Personal Finance Company office. He says "yes" to 4 out of 5.

New Operators Take Over Two Moving Picture Theatres

The leases of the Penn and Victor theatres have been transferred by the Gamble interests to new operators, with their interests locally being represented by Louis Lutz, General Manager, who comes to New Castle after twenty-five years experience in theatre operation, with both chain and independent groups.

Born in Melrose, Wisconsin, his schooling was completed in La Crosse, Wisconsin, after which he worked in a bank at Winona, Minn., existing there in the early days of World War one, at the age of nineteen, to see training at Jefferson Barracks, Mo.; Ft. Benj. Harrison, Ind.; and Camp Sherman, O.

When the men started rolling in from Ohio and western Pennsylvania, he was among those in the first aid corps, who passed them thru, and serviced them during training period, finally going across with the 332nd Infantry thru a training period in France and then on to Italy, where his outfit saw service.

Returning in 1919 he represented a grocery jobber, calling on retail trade in southern Minnesota, later became associated with an automobile agency, transferring to Appleton, Wis., at which point without previous theatre experience he became manager of the vaudeville and picture house in that city. Succeeding years saw him in Madison, and other Wisconsin cities, including eight years with the Warner Bros. circuit in Milwaukee. He joined the RKO circuit in 1942 in charge of their twenty-eight hundred seat house in Detroit, Mich., transferring five years later to Grand Rapids, Mich., where he spent the next three years as City Manager for the RKO interests.

His arrival on the local theatre scene was prompted by a long friendship with one of the principal owners of the new theatre company, whom he has been associated with in theatre operations elsewhere.

James G. Bell will remain with the theatres, as Mr. Lutz's assistant, and all other personnel will be retained, where possible.

Modernization plans for the two theatres are now under discussion.

Urge Sen. McCarthy To Tread Carefully

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27.—(INS)—Senate GOP leaders have cautioned Sen. McCarthy (R) Wis., to tread carefully with his charges of Communism in government to avoid any possible "back fire" against Republicans in the 1950 elections.

McCarthy has been urged to keep his allegations limited strictly to clear-cut issues he can support with evidence.

This became known as members of the Senate appropriations committee served noticed that they will explore the Communism question themselves when the state department appropriations comes up for hearings in a few days.

Both Republicans and Democrats made it clear that Secretary of State Acheson and his lieutenants will be sharply questioned on the matter.

Sen. Bridges (R) N. H., said that he did not think the appropriations approach would conflict with the impending foreign relations subcommittee investigation of McCarthy's charges that the state department is harboring Communists and Communist sympathizers.

Bugs May Invade Farms Next Year

Mild Weather
May Cause Great
Farm Crop Loss

By JOHN HARMS
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27.—Bugs may be the answer to the government's surplus food problem next year.

The Agriculture Department warned today that one of the greatest hordes of insects on record threatens to devour billions of dollars worth of farm crops this summer.

The mild winter weather has been good to most kinds of insects. And if it continues so through spring—grasshoppers, boll weevils, European corn borers, green bugs, screw worm flies and a host of other insects will plague farmers in a rampage rarely seen.

The department already is laying the blueprint of action to hand out information and send troops into heavily infested areas. It promises farmers lots of help.

All Depends On Weather

But it all depends on the weather.

Entomologists called this year "the highest potential" loss year on record because the weather so far has been extremely favorable to insect survival.

Last year grasshoppers, boll weevils and European corn borers alone cost the nation's farmers almost one billion dollars worth of corn, wheat, cotton, forage grasses and other small grains.

Damage caused by all insects has at time amounted to three billion dollars. What the total damage might come to this summer by all bugs, if the weather is favorable, no one in the department is prepared to say.

The National Cotton Council said the boll weevil last year ruined more than $470,000,000 worth of cotton with the destruction of about 2,800,000 bales.

The European corn borer wiped out about $350,000,000 in corn last year and the grasshopper chewed up more than $100,000,000 in corn, wheat, other cereal grains and range grasses, according to the division of entomology and plant quarantine.

But, an official said, it's not all gloom. The Japanese beetle isn't expected to be too numerous this summer.

ANTI-SUBMARINE WARFARE PLANE MODIFIED

—Acme Telephoto

BURBANK, CALIF.—A tremendous advance in the anti-submarine warfare program is noted in United States Navy announcement of the new Lockheed P2V-4 Neptune (above). The plane can find once radar-proof "Snorkel" submarines at any depth and destroy them without any help from surface vessels. Now being delivered for Navy use, it is the first airplane specifically designed to meet the threat of snorkeling submarines wherever they might operate. Equipment includes a radio sonobouy, which is dropped in the ocean and relays the sound of the sub's propellers.

Hunt Slayer Of Philadelphia Man

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 27.—(INS)—Police today sought a killer who crept into the bedroom of an alleged Philadelphia numbers baron and shot him to death early yesterday.

The victim, Felix (Phil) Vita-colonna, 43, was shot five times in the head as he slept beside his wife, Julia, 39, in their Roxborough home.

Police who questioned Mrs. Vitacolonna for 12 hours said she told them she slept during the shooting. Detectives said the slayer apparently muffled the reports of his .32-caliber pistol. The woman was quoted as saying she was not awakened by pistol shots but that she was aroused by a foot-step on the stairs.

Detectives expressed belief the killer entered the house through the front door by using a milk bottle to break a small window pane near the knob.

OLD CAR BRINGS $50

CHICAGO—A partner in a north side automobile agency answered the telephone. The caller said he had a used car to sell for $50. The car, it turned out, was a 1919 model. The agency man was astonished. But so, probably, was the owner. Because the agency man, who knew a showpiece when he saw one, bought it.

1950 MERCURY TOPS ALL WINNERS IN MOBILGAS GRAND CANYON RUN!

OFFICIAL WINNER! Four-door Mercury Sport Sedan, entered by the Los Angeles Dealers Lincoln Mercury Association.

1950 MERCURY WITH OVERDRIVE AMERICA'S "NO. 1 ECONOMY CAR"!

Sets amazing new gas-oline mileage record for gruelling 751 mile Grand Canyon run as it out-performs 30 other entries from America's leading car makers!

YES, now it's officially-proven! Pound for pound, the big new 1950 Mercury IS America's most economical car!

For, in the 751 Mile Mobilgas Grand Canyon Run conducted by the American Automobile Association last week, Mercury delivered grand-prize winning gasoline economy—over a rugged course which ranged from Death Valley to 7000 foot icy mountain passes!

This remarkable economy—made possible by the combination of Mercury's thrifty, V-type, 8-cylinder engine and its gas-saving "Touch-O-Matic" Over-drive—came as no surprise to Mercury owners. For many Mercury owners had repeatedly reported gasoline economy far above average expectations.

Yet this unusual economy is only one of the many reasons why thousands of owners are now choosing Mercury. Many say it's the smartest-looking car on the road. Others claim it's the smoothest-riding, most comfortable, too! And all agree it's the biggest value for the money!

Drive Mercury yourself—and see!

You bet it's "better than ever"—

Plane Collides With Flock Of Sea Gulls

PORTLAND, Ore., Feb. 27.—(INS)—A southbound United Airliner was crippled late yesterday when it collided with a flock of sea gulls while landing at the Portland airport.

Its nose and windshield were damaged so it could not continue on to Los Angeles. Another plane had to be flown from Seattle to replace the damaged aircraft and finally left two hours late. Passengers were not injured.

More than 50 dead gulls littered the field after the crash. Control towermen said the flocks are driven in by storms along the coast and there is no way to keep them off the field. They said several such collisions had occurred.

tapped. The conversion of gasoline and steam locomotives to operate with natural gas has been undertaken as an economy measure by the Japanese state-owned railways.

Two Fires Cause Heavy Damage

—New Castle News Photos by James and Lester Leasure

Two serious fires caused damages running into the hundreds of thousand dollars during the week-end. A blaze in the Dean Block, South Craton avenue, did considerable damage and caused the death of an elderly lady in the early hours of Sunday morning. (top left photo). Firemen can be seen putting out the last remnants of the fire in the Dean Block. (top right). Damage reaching $250,000 resulted from fire that destroyed the business block on the corner of Washington and Mercer streets this morning. Firemen train their hoses on the building trying to save the small shops and apartments at the rear of the

City Hall

Richards Is Named By CityWill Be Director
At City Golf Course

When council met formally in the municipal building Monday, Howard B. Richards was named as the city's representative on the board of three directors who will make recommendations for the operation of Sylvan Heights golf course.

The Greater New Castle association as yet has not officially named its representative. The latter representative with Mr. Richards will select a third director. They will make recommendations to council as to how the course can be operated efficiently and economically.

Mr. Richards' name was presented by Property Director Joseph F. Medure and his appointment was unanimous.

According to councilman action, Mr. Medure will have direct supervision of all city parks and playgrounds, not under the direction of the Municipal Recreation commission.

MINOR PARTS MISSING

American LaFrance Foamite company, in a communication, requested sanction of council to ship the new $13,900 fire truck pumper to the city, minus several minor parts, which the company said as yet were unavailable but would be shipped later.

Because the company did not specifically name the missing parts, Councilmen E. Gene Schweinsberg and Joseph F. Medure objected to its acceptance.

Upon motion of Councilman Albert A. Hoyland, the communication was referred to Safety Director Davis.

EAR-MARKED FOR STREETS

Fines collected by various magistrates from motorists for violation of Stop signs, and which are forwarded to the city, must be placed in a fund to be devoted to the construction and maintenance of local streets, Solicitor Robert White informed council Monday.

George Stevens presented a petition for an extension of a sewer in Meyer avenue between Carlisle and Meyer avenue. The petition was referred to Solicitor Robert White for investigation. City Assessor George Patterson reported to council he had made an assessment on eight new homes, which are now under roof, and which will be placed on the 1951 tax books.

RECEIVE POLICY MONEY

Council received from the commonwealth of Pennsylvania today $906.81 which will be appropriated to the police pension fund.

Women Seeking To Beat Man At Pie
Baking Competition

SALEM, Mass., Feb. 27.—(INS)—The sweet smells of freshly baked cakes wafted from more than 150 kitchens in Massachusetts' North Shore area today as housewives put forth their best efforts to prevent a man from beating them again.

Last October a Salem bakery conducted a pie baking contest and the only man to enter, Albert Jordan, 72, won the area championship.

Today the same bakery will determine the cake making champion and Jordan, father of five children, is again entering, in pursuit of the prize of a portable ironer.

Jordan began cooking for his family some years ago when he decided his wife had enough work caring for the home and their children.

John C. Bell Jr.
May Be Candidate
For State Court

HARRISBURG, Feb. 27.—(INS)—Sentiment crystallized today around John C. Bell, Jr., as the Duff-Fine candidate for the state supreme court.

The former lieutenant governor and 1949 governor was singled out for top consideration for the $25,000-a-year post during a meeting of top Duff-Fine leaders Sunday at the Indianapolis Gap home of Gov. James H. Duff.

A telephone canvass of key Duff-Fine leaders turned sentiment toward the 57-year-old attorney who has been active in Republican politics since serving as banking secretary in the James administration from 1939 to 1943 when he was elected lieutenant governor.

Governor Duff Lauds

HARRISBURG, Feb. 27.—(INS)—Gov. James H. Duff today lauded the state's American Red Cross chapters for their accomplishments during 1949.

Pennsylvania contributed $5,451,312 to the 1949 fund appeal, the governor said in a summary based on a report prepared by eastern area headquarters of the organization.

In return, he said, the Red Cross made significant contributions to the state in the fields of welfare and community activities, including disaster relief and rehabilitation, service to veterans, service to the armed forces, the national blood program and other related services.

During 1949, he reported, 25,650 individuals donated 27,250 pints of blood through facilities of regional blood centers at Philadelphia and Johnstown.

Denies Spy Charge

SOSTHENES BEHN (above), International Telephone and Telegraph board chairman, is named in a confession by I. T. & T. vice president Robert A. Vogeler, on trial in Communist Hungary on sabotage and espionage charges, as the "brains" of an American spy ring. Vogeler's confession, reminiscent of that of Cardinal Mindszenty in another trial, is termed "fantastic and totally untrue" by Behn.

HIRED HANDS WAGES HIGH

HARRISBURG, Feb. 27.—(INS)—Values of Pennsylvania farms and their products are declining but the wages of hired hands remain near peak levels, the Agriculture department reported today.

During 1949, Pennsylvania farm help received an average $14 per month or $2 more than in 1948.

Would Give
Draft Powers
To Congress

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27.—(INS)

Chairman Vinson (D) Ga., of the House Armed Services Committee, introduces today a new draft law giving Congress alone the power to order inductions.

The bill provides for a three-year continuance of the present selective service system, but only with authority to register and classify 18 and 19-year-old youths. The present law expires June 24.

Vinson, who rejected an administration plea for a three-year continuance of the present draft law without change, predicted the bill will be approved by his group next month and enacted by the House shortly thereafter.

There have been no inductions under the present law since January 1949. The new act would continue the "induction holiday" until such time as may be set by Congress. The new act would expire June 30, 1953.

Vinson maintained that Congress would act swiftly if an emergency arose and turned down Defense Secretary Johnson's proposal that the president be authorized to resume inductions in the event sudden action was necessary.

Resume Hearings On Color Television

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27.—(INS)

The Federal Communications commission resumes color television hearings today amid claims by three major color proponents that its system is superior.

Top TV industrialists and highly-skilled technicians open testimony in the second phase of the FCC color hearing. The FCC has the task of deciding when and if color video is ready for the public and if so, which system to adopt for the commercial market.

Major entries in the color race are the Radio Corporation of America, the Columbia Broadcasting system and Color Television, Inc. All weathered strenuous FCC comparative tests last week.

Al Scarazzo Named President of New Castle Baseball Club

Board Of Directors Change Name Of Team To Senators

The New Castle Nats went out of existence Sunday afternoon. From now on it will be the New Castle Senators of the Middle-Atlantic league—this action being taken yesterday by the Board of Directors at an organization meeting.

Al Scarazzo, well known local southside business executive was named president of the newly organized Senators along with the following officers: Vice President, William F. DeCarbo; Secretary of the Board, Rocco Vitale; Treasurer, William W. Smeal; Secretary of the Senators ball club, Anthony Conn; Acting Business Manager, Attorney Frank Moretti.

The Board of Directors following the election of officers discussed the coming league season and expressed confidence that New Castle will field a fine ball club, and will be out to win the championship if at all possible.

The following Board of Directors participated in the meeting Sunday: Al Scarazzo, William F. DeCarbo, Rocco Vitale, William Smeal, Art Prioletti, Anthony Conn and Robert Houk. Absent were: Preston Flaherty and John S. Riley, Jr.

General Meeting March 8

President Scarazzo announced following the session yesterday that there will be a general meeting of all stockholders at the Hotel New Penn at 8 o'clock Wednesday, March 8th at which time the new playing manager Charles "Chuck" Cronin will be introduced and he will formally sign his 1950 contract.

The sale of stock in the Senators is being continued, at $10.00 per share and not more than 100 shares to an individual, group or faction. It is hoped that the Senators can be incorporated at $20,000, which is $5,000 short of the intended goal.

Directors Set Prices

The directors set the following prices for the Senators 63 home league games this year:
Season box seats—$50.00.
Season general admission—$30.00.
Box seats, single game—$1.00.
General admission, single game—75 cents.
Children under 12—25 cents.

Clairella Groundkeeper

It was decided to sell the general admission tickets to the installment plan, the details to be announced later.
Carl "Buttalo" Clairella was named as groundskeeper at the meeting yesterday, a position he filled so capably last year.
The directors ended their meeting on a note of optimism and it augers well for the New Castle Senators, as they approach the 1950 season opening date Friday, May 5th.

Panther Football Stars Give Morellas Tough Game, 53-51

"Lefty" Tanner with 15 points was high man for the game with Carlson having 11, Rags Gennoek 11 and "Dodo" Cantera 12 for the losers.

The Morellas led at the half 33 to 29. Bobby Lee and Lindy Lauro each had eight points for the losers.

Athletics Head For Florida Camp

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 27.—(INS)—Twenty-nine hopeful Philadelphia A's embarked on "operation spring training" today with two objectives in mind:

(1) To end a 19-year pennant famine.
(2) To help their 86-year-old manager, Connie Mack, realize his long-cherished dream of "just one more flag."

Could Win Flag

The Mackmen, fifth in the American League last season, are being tabbed potential pennant winners this year providing they come up with a "long ball hitter" and consistently fine pitching again.

Due to arrive via rail at the spring training base at West Palm Beach, Fla., tomorrow afternoon, the entourage of ballplayers will be met by Mack, who has been wintering in the southland.

The A's will have 36 players in camp by the time actual training gets underway on Wednesday to usher in Mack's golden jubilee season as pilot of the club.

Titans Whip 'Gators, 95-54; Battle St. Francis Tuesday

Westminster college's high scoring cagers overpowered Allegheny college 95-54 Saturday for their 20th victory of the season.

The Titans, headed down the home stretch in what may well be their best record since they played in the national invitation tournament in 1941, easily outclassed the Gators after getting off to another slow first period start.

The Gators, playing on their home floor, took a 9-4 lead in the first three minutes of play and held on until midway of the period when Allen McCullough tied up the half game at 9-9. Seconds later McCullough stole the ball from the Gators and put the Titans ahead 11-9. Bruce Wagner came through with two field goals, Jack Jones, Don Meyers and McCullough contributed one each, and the Titans were ahead 21-12 at the first quarter mark.

Gators Weaken
As the second period got underway the Allegheny quintet began to weaken under the fast-breaking play of the Blue and White and were forced to use four time-out periods before the end of the first half in an effort to conserve their energy.

Westminster led 46-25 at the half. Washbaugh pulled out all of his starting lineup except Clyde Shaffer and started second half play with Ed Halas, Dick Fuhrer, Don Meyers and John Abraham.

Jones High Scorer
The first stringers saw action again in the final quarter. Twelve Titans in all played in the contest. Eleven hit the scoring column. Jones was high scorer for Westminster with 21 points. Wagner had 16 points. Meyers had 14 and John Abraham had 10.

Tuesday night the Titans will attempt to keep their 66 straight home victory record intact when they meet St. Francis, one of the two teams that have defeated the Westminster team this year.

Always "up" for the Westminster game, the Frankies have battled the Titans on better than even terms for two years. Last year the two clubs split a pair of one-point decisions in games decided in the last seconds of play. At Duquesne Gardens earlier this season the Frankies came from behind to dump the Titans 70-68.

Indians Stage Final Practice

Hennon Drills Team For Playoff Match

Wampum High basketball team stages its final workout today before meeting Moon township in the first round playoffs of WPIAL, class B, at New Brighton Tuesday.

Coach Butler Hennon's boys enjoyed a two-day rest over the week-end and plan to reach a fine edge for their inter-sectional contest.

Wampum last entered the playoff picture in 1947. That year the Indians won three before dropping a decision to Irwin in the WPIAL finals. The 1948 team lost to Midland in the first round, as did the 1941 quintet.

Coach Hennon has not had an opportunity to scout the Moon township team, but from newspaper accounts he believes the Section 16 champs will be both big and rugged. The local tourney entry may be a little faster and will not be too slow to capitalize on that speed.

HERE and THERE IN SPORTS LAND

THERE WAS A TIME when Bill Shuliff, now of the Johnson Bronze, could sling his feet like nobody's business. This was in the days when his hair was not gray, and when ambition was coupled to youthful energy; in fact, during the period when the city could boast of several local and nationally known terpsichoreans, and male song-birds.

Bill and the late Hugh Hannon, danced together for years. They did the Buck and Wing, Soft-Shoe, and also the Waltz clog. For years, the names "Hannon & Shuliff", on a theater program meant much. Every St. Patrick's night, they had a permanent engagement, in Sharon. A packed theater always greeted them, and time and again, John Vogel, famous minstrelman, tried to book them for his show.

Here & There met Bill several nights ago at the Firemen's banquet in the Legion home, and while Shuliff was somewhat reticent of discussing the Days of Yesteryear, there was extracted from his memory some facts concerning performers who brought enjoyment and happiness to theater-goers, not only of this city, nearby towns, but also on various vaudeville and minstrel circuits.

He recalled Ralph Lanigan and Frank Covert, dancing in the old Opera House, and after gaining an experience of leg and foot that was unexcelled, plus confidence, the pair "went out". Later, Covert married and the team became known as "Lanigan, Covert and Dawson." (Here & There yet remembers seeing the trio dance in Boston and New York City.)

Shuliff recalled the Diamond brothers, Lou, Matt and Lawrence who became minstrel stars of the theatre. Lou and Matt were dancers while Lawrence was the interlocutor, and possessed a good tenor voice. "I danced with Lou. He taught me his steps and I taught him my steps," Bill said, no doubt, wishing he could live against through those days.

At this point, Bill's thoughts drifted to ball players who went from this city into faster company. He recalled Jack Rowan, pitcher, who hurried for the Cincinnati Reds, Dutch Crum who also went to the Big Show, as an outfielder, and Red Gibby, who played the outfield for Buffalo. He said that of those who "went out" in his day, Rowan was probably the most outstanding ball player.

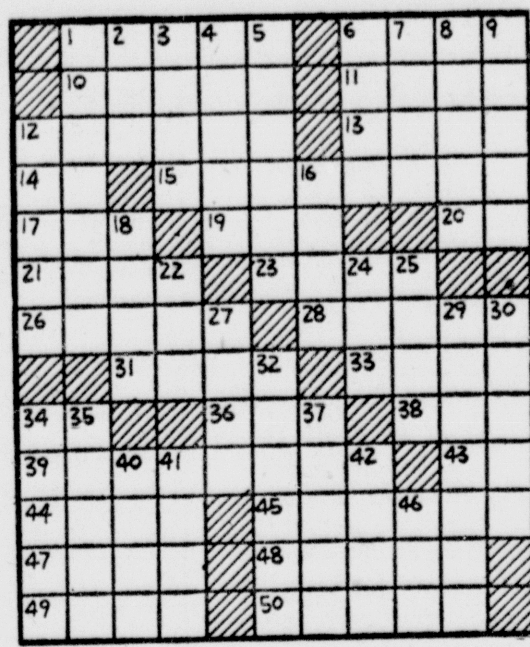

He told of donning the gloves with Jimmy Dunn, who later became famous as a fighter, and manager. "I would spare with him at the old Fair Grounds, which in those days were located on the North Hill. Not only me, but others who boxed with him, tried to 'hold him off' but if we did get in a solid blow, he would 'tear into us' and, what a shellacking he gave us," Shuliff explained.

In referring back to his dance days, Bill said that everyone should be taught the "essence", or the preparation of what is to be accomplished. It consists of only a few steps, but unless one gives it studious attention and practice, he is unable to perform it without it, handicaps confront one who desires to dance well.

Bill is up in years now, but he yet can sling his feet. The muscles in his legs have not yet become "tied", or cramped. He still has a nimbleness of foot that few men who have passed the sixtieth milestone possess. Let Bill hear a dance number on a piano, radio or television set and the urge to "get up and do a step or two" becomes prevalent.

The current Pittsburgh Steeler mixup with Michigan State wing-back Lynn Candnois might properly be called a tale of three cities—with no apologies to Charles Dickens. It involves Cleveland, Pittsburgh and, somewhat peculiarly, Washington.

Time was when two basketball teams just got together and played. Now they hold pre-game confabs on what kind of rules they're going to use.
